

Incident Commander Position Specific

LG SETA accredited course

Presented by: DYNAMIC INCIDENT MANAGEMENT

Endorsed by South African Incident Command System Working Team (SA ICS) and FEMA Based (Revised for our needs)
LG SETA Unit Standard 10981 accreditation certificate—Supervise work unit to achieve work unit objectives—12 Credits

This course provide the student with the understanding and implementing of the role, duties and responsibilities of the incident commander for initial attack incidents and to activate the ICS structure for extended or complex incidents.

The Incident Commander is the decision maker during incident; Delegating tasks and listening to input from subject matter experts in order to bring the incident to resolution. They become the highest ranking individual on any incident call, regardless of their day-to-day rank.

Modules include:

- What is an Incident Commander and how important is the human factor during incidents for the IC on managing resources
- The Initial Attack Incident Commander vs Extended attack IC role & responsibilities
- Interagency incidents and delegation of authority
- Implement the Planning Process
- Incident Assessment and setting of objectives
- ICS Documentation for initial vs extend incidents
- Managing people (part of the human factor)
- Activating of Incident Management Team functions and management
- Demobilization and after action reviews
- LOTS OF PRACTICAL EXERCISES

NOTE: The course is practical based for the IC on how to move from a n Initial attack incident to incident management change for extended incidents

Cost:

Price: R5550 pp

Date: 23-27 March 2020

Venue: False Bay Rendezvous Hall

Promenade Road

Lakeside

Cape Town

Include: Course material & Light lunch

Contact Detail:

Michelle Kleinhans

Cell: 078 272 9089

Fax: 086 595 1990

E-mail: michelle@dynamicincident.co.za

MUST HAVE COMPLETED ICS I-300—proof to be provided

DYNAMIC INCIDENT MANAGEMENT (Pty) Ltd (CK; 2015/180343/07)

All Hazard Integrated Incident/Event Management Training – Beyond First Response

Contact us for an official quotation

NOTE: confirmation of attendance only after payment received